Cell Phone Policy

Students are rarely given the opportunity to unplug from the constant stream of distractions, drama, and temptation that go hand-in-hand with smartphone use. We believe that God wants to use this week as a unique period of time in each of these student's lives where they can focus on what God is doing in them and in the world. In order to ensure that every student is in the best possible position to receive that message, we are restricting all cell phone use and possession during this trip. Here are important details:

- Students may bring their phones for travel, but they will be taken up, bagged, labeled and stored in a secure office at the facility from Sunday night until Friday afternoon.
- Family group leaders and staff can capture all the pictures from the trip.
- Family group leaders can relay any important information from students, and the staff can be contacted any time if there is an emergency at home.
- This policy includes other devices that can access apps and the internet (ipads, ipods, smart watches).

While this may seem extreme, we want to assure you that your students will be safe and that our experience is that most students will be relieved to have an excuse to take a break from all the “noise.”
